

Understanding Micro-grid Market in South-East Asia

Event Overview

This practical training will introduce the basics about South-East Asia's micro-grid market. The participants will learn about global trends, fundamentals of technical design and key building blocks for micro-grid business models. 3 country-level dive-in's will be presented for Indonesia, Philippines and Myanmar which will be accompanied by selected case studies. Singapore experience in micro-grid development will also be shared.

The training is targeted at business development teams of equipment manufacturers and developers, financiers and those who want to learn more about this new market with strong growth potential in the region.

The training will also allow the participants to network with each other and will be an effective way to join a like-minded community of market players.
