

Singapore's Contestable Electricity Market

Carbon Neutralising your Electricity

Seminar Summary

Energy Market Authority (EMA) to fully open up the electricity retail market to competition in 2018, empowering consumers to freely choose electricity from electricity retailers under customised price plans

Get insights to the market structure and learn about the features of the National Electricity Market Singapore (NEMS). Understand the benefits of an open electricity market and the electricity retail platform.

Not all electricity is the same, we will also share on the carbon neutralising process, how carbon credits from green and renewables sources can offset your carbon footprint.
